Landmark Event Celebrating 100 Years Since Britain's First Grand Prix

BROOKLANDS MUSEUM

Grand Prix Centenary Event

As part of our ongoing partnership with Kier, Alltask was proud to support Brooklands Museum's Grand Prix Centenary celebrations.

Located adjacent to Kier's Haleon Building project in Weybridge, Brooklands Museum hosted a landmark event celebrating 100 years since Britain's first Grand Prix. The event brought together an impressive collection of historic and modern Grand Prix vehicles and welcomed thousands of visitors to the original home of British motorsport.

Through Kier's commitment to delivering social value within the local community, Alltask provided the scaffolding expertise required to help support this special event.

Scope of Works
Our Scaffolding Division was tasked with designing and erecting a series of bespoke scaffold structures to support large-format event signage and branding throughout the museum grounds.

The structures included a prominent entrance gantry displaying the Brooklands Museum branding, together with additional scaffold-supported displays designed to enhance the visitor experience and celebrate the heritage of Grand Prix racing.

All works were completed safely and efficiently within a live environment, ensuring the structures were ready ahead of the celebrations.

Given the scale and visibility of the event, the structures required careful planning and coordination to ensure they met both the operational requirements of the museum and the visual impact expected for such an important event.

Utilising our experience in temporary works and specialist scaffolding solutions, our team delivered robust structures capable of supporting the required signage while maintaining the highest standards of safety

The completed installations formed a key feature of the event and provided an impressive gateway and focal point for visitors attending the celebrations.

Supporting Social Value Initiatives
At Alltask, we recognise the importance of creating positive impacts within the communities where we work.

By supporting Brooklands Museum through Kier's social value programme, this project provided an opportunity to contribute towards a significant local heritage event while strengthening relationships between the project team, neighbouring organisations and the wider community.

Client Feedback
Following the successful event, Kier expressed their appreciation for the contribution made by the Alltask team.

" On behalf of the whole Kier project team, I just want to express our gratitude for all the work you did for Brooklands Museum for their Grand Prix Centenary last weekend"

Working in partnership with Kier, Alltask successfully delivered bespoke scaffolding structures to support Brooklands Museum's Grand Prix Centenary celebrations. The project demonstrated the versatility of our Scaffolding Division while contributing to a significant local community event through the delivery of meaningful social value.
